

DATAVERSE DESIGN SEMINAR

The World-historical Dataverse (www.dataverse.pitt.edu) contributes to collecting and displaying the universe of world-historical data for the past five centuries. In this seminar, prominent scholars who have constructed and used large-scale historical databases come to Pitt to discuss their work and its implications.

RUTH MOSTERN

Department of History, University of California – Merced

“MAPPING THE PAST: NEW INSIGHTS FROM SPATIAL HISTORY, WITH EXAMPLES FROM CHINA AND THE SILK ROAD”

April 9, 2009
4:00 p.m.
3703 Posvar Hall

For Sponsored by the World History Center at the University of Pittsburgh

For more information, e-mail worldhis@pitt.edu or call 412-624-3073.

WORLD HISTORY CENTER